

Leonard Sax MD PhD 2013 events

January 8: Bryn Mawr Pennsylvania: I gave a presentation for parents at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church

January 19 – 22: Minot, North Dakota: I led workshops: for teachers; for parents; and for counselors and social workers

January 24: Highland Park (Dallas) Texas: I gave two presentations for parents, “boys adrift” and “girls on the edge”, sponsored by the Highland Park Independent School District (public schools)

March 7 and 8: Grand Prairie, Texas: I gave a presentation for parents, and led a workshop for teachers on bullying prevention.

March 16: Columbia, South Carolina: I led two presentations for teachers and school administrators, plus one presentation for parents

March 18: Santa Clara, California: I gave a presentation for parents, on the topic of “beyond resilience”

March 19 & 20: Los Gatos, Atherton, Hillsborough, and Palo Alto, California: I gave presentations for a consortium of independent schools, at four different venues, sponsored by the Common Ground Speakers Series

March 25: Brampton, Ontario: I gave a presentation for parents, at St. Marguerite Bourgeoys School

March 26, Hamilton Ontario: I led full-day workshop on “boys adrift” teachers, administrators, and social workers, sponsored by the Hamilton Wentworth Catholic School Board.

March 28, Brookline Massachusetts: Dexter School and Southfield School jointly sponsored a workshop for teachers, and a presentation to parents.

April 22, Lakefield, Ontario: I led an afternoon workshop for teachers on “boys adrift / girls on the edge” followed by an evening presentation for parents on the topic “beyond resilience.”

April 23, Newmarket, Ontario: I gave a presentation for parents at Sir William Mulock Secondary School.

April 30, Newton Massachusetts: I led conversations with students, conducted a workshop for teachers, and gave a presentation to parents, at the Jackson-Walnut Park Schools.

May 2-4: Baltimore, Maryland: I gave three presentations for the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine www.stfm.org: one presentation on new research regarding social media and teenagers; a second presentation, on what professionals need to know about the changing realities of LGBTQIA; and a third presentation about the diagnosis and misdiagnosis of ADHD.

May 8: St George’s School for Girls, Edinburgh, Scotland: I led conversations with students, conducted a workshop for teachers, and gave a presentation for parents

May 9: Merchiston Castle School, Edinburgh, Scotland: I led conversations with students, conducted a workshop for teachers, and gave a presentation for parents

May 10: Kilgraston School, Perthshire, Scotland: I led conversations with students, conducted a workshop for teachers, and gave a presentation for parents

May 15: Lucerne, Switzerland: I gave a presentation on the effects of endocrine disruptors on child and adolescent development.

June 10/11/12/13: Grand Prairie, Texas: I conducted four days of workshops for public school teachers and administrators

June 24 – 28: Buffalo, NY: I led a five-day (35-hour) workshop for teachers and administrators, focusing on gender-aware strategies for boosting academic achievement and breaking down gender stereotypes.

August 27: St Catherine's School, Richmond Virginia (first of two days): I led a full-day workshop for teachers.

October 8 and 9, Atlanta Georgia: Pace Academy: I led conversations with students, conducted a workshop for teachers, and gave a presentation for parents

October 10, Plymouth, Minnesota: I led an afternoon workshop for youth pastors, and gave an evening presentation for parents, both sponsored by St Philip the Deacon Lutheran Church.

October 19: Chico, California: I led a full-day workshop on "boys adrift / girls on the edge" sponsored by CSU/Chico

October 21: San Francisco, California, Ecole Notre Dame des Victoires: I gave a presentation for parents

October 22: Hillview Middle School, Menlo Park, California: I gave a presentation for parents

October 25, Yarmouth Nova Scotia: I led a full-day workshop for teachers

November 6: Ohio School counselors, Columbus Ohio (AOCC): I led a full-day workshop "boys adrift / girls on the edge" for school counselors; followed by an evening session on "evaluation of the child who is not paying attention; the diagnosis and misdiagnosis of ADHD"

November 14: St. Catherine's School, Richmond Virginia (second of two days): I met with students; led a workshop for counseling staff; and gave a presentation for parents

November 18/19: Two days of events at St. Andrew's Schools, Honolulu, Hawaii: I met with students, gave presentations for teachers and (separately) for counselors; and gave two evening presentations for parents

November 20: Arlington Unitarian Cooperative Preschool: I gave a presentation for parents

November 21/22: Connelly School of the Holy Child, Potomac MD: I gave a presentation for parents and led a workshop for teachers

December 4: Fargo North Dakota: I led a full-day workshop for professionals who work with girls and boys on "the medicalization of misbehavior"

December 2 & 9: Shady Side Academy in Pittsburgh: I met with students, led workshops for teachers, and gave a presentation for parents